

Crislove A. Igeleke, Esq.

Crislove A. Igeleke is the Chair of the Community Partnership and Voter Initiatives Committee for the National Bar Association's Las Vegas Chapter. As a born and raised Las Vegas native, she prides herself in being an avid supporter of the community and legal advisor to clients in times of trouble. She is an attorney with the firm Murchison & Cumming, LLP where she focuses on general liability, trademark and copyright, business, and employment litigation. She has represented a broad array of clients from national franchises, corporations, and TV personalities to nonprofits, small business startups and individuals. She has worked to resolve trademark disputes before the United States Patent and Trademark Office and claims of infringement, false designation, and unfair competition in Federal Court. Through effective case evaluation, and strategic negotiation, she takes pride in reaching positive case resolutions for her clients.

Prior to her current position, Ms. Igeleke focused primarily on transactional law, guiding and consulting clients on formation, contracts, and compliance as a trusted advisor. She taught various legal education courses and trainings to business owners, entrepreneurs, and nonprofit boards through partnerships with the United States Small Business Development Center, University of Nevada, Las Vegas and the City of Las Vegas and Henderson.

Determined to take on a challenge, Crislove graduated from high school, college and law school early in the top of her class. She earned her Bachelors in Political Science and International Relations, Magna Cum Laude from Lincoln University (PA) and began working for former Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid in Washington, DC. Thereafter, she obtained her Juris Doctorate from William S. Boyd School of Law with Highest Pro Bono Honors. During law school, she worked in the Thomas & Mack Legal Clinic, and as a research assistant, and special education advocate. Additionally, she served as the Public Interest Liaison to the Nevada Supreme Court's Access to Justice Commission, Vice President of Operations and Philanthropy for the Black Law Students Associations, Vice President of Community Involvement for the Public Interest Las Association and Treasurer for the Child Advocacy Law Association. Accumulating substantial experience through externships, she worked for the United States Federal Court Magistrate Judge Cam Ferenbach, In-House Legal Counsel at Diamond Resorts International and the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE).

Whether at work or in the community, Crislove brings her skillset, and determination to boldly and tirelessly advocate for others. Away from the office, Ms. Igeleke enjoys spending time with her family and friends, traveling abroad, and volunteering. Crislove's parents instilled values of hard work and giving back in her from an early age. She now brings that mindset into her practice as a thoughtful, innate problem solver, prepared for any task she is met with. Crislove served as an educator in Clark County and as an advocate for children in foster care. Currently, Ms. Igeleke volunteers as a Legal Advisor to the Young Nonprofit Professionals Network, Southern Nevada Chapter. She was recently recognized in the Legal Aid Center of Southern Nevada's 2019 Honor Roll and was named the 2019 NLS Champions of Justice Pro Bono Attorney of the Year for her continued commitment to service.

Practice Areas

- Business/Nonprofit Formation & Transactions

- Cannabis Law
- Civil Litigation
- Employment Law
- General Liability & Casualty
- Trademark and Copyright
- Real Estate
- Record Sealing
- Wills